

“SEE IT! Original and Poetic. Funny and Sad. You will probably remember scenes from it a year from now, because it’s not really like anything else.”

MICK LaSALLE, San Francisco Chronicle

“A WONDERFUL LITTLE INDIE!”

F.X. FEENEY

(Film Critic, L.A. WEEKLY, VARIETY, MOVIELINE)

“Every now and then a TOTALLY CHARMING, ARRESTING FILM is made in Hollywood. Footprints is one of those films.”

ROY OLDENKAMP, WeHo News

“GRADE: A! MAGICAL! You’ll be glad you made the trip to Hollywood & Highland... A small poignantly told picture of considerable depth and charm!”

CHRISTIAN GOSS, Campus Circle

“FINELY CRAFTED... A well-woven pastiche of Hitchcockian mystery, Horatian satire, and magical realism... Full of humor, charm, melancholy and nostalgia.”

SONYA ALEXANDER, All Voices

“THREE STARS! Off-kilter, off the beaten path... A Jim Jarmusch film inside an Edward Hopper painting.”

JOE NEUMAIER, New York Daily News

“Some filmmakers and journalists like to promote the myth of Hollywood as a wonderful, harmless dream machine, but that disingenuous notion is touchingly subverted in Steven Peros’ Footprints.”

ARMOND WHITE

(Chairman, New York Film Critics Circle)
